South River Technologies Announces European Expansion with WBC of France

French Version of the Popular WebDrive Product to be Distributed Across France

ANNAPOLIS, Md.—June 9, 2008—South River Technologies, Inc., (SRT) an innovator in secure file transfer and collaboration software, today announced it has expanded into France by signing a partnership with French software distributor WBC. WBC will exclusively distribute a French version of the popular WebDrive product across France. WebDrive is a Universal File Access client that enables users to securely access, edit and manage documents on remote servers through the convenience of a drive letter.

SRT has resellers in 41 countries. The addition of WBC brings the number of distributors offering native language versions of SRT software to five. Distributors typically take on a more active role in localizing, selling and supporting SRT products. Last year, SRT expanded its relationship with German distributor Mecosystemhaus, increasing an already strong presence in Germany.

“Demand for SRT’s products including WebDrive has grown significantly in France and across Europe as more companies experience the convenience of securely accessing Web-based files through the familiar interface of a drive letter,” said Michael Ryan, co-founder and CEO, South River Technologies. “We look forward to working closely with WBC to meet the needs of customers purchasing the new French version of WebDrive.”

“WebDrive has always been very popular in France and is known as a very easy-to-use file access client, allowing remote and secure data access, from anywhere and at any time,” said Michel Roux, CEO, WBC. “South River Technologies is a leader in remote data access and WebDrive Web-enables every Windows application making it a logical extension to our products. Becoming South River Technologies’ exclusive distributor of the French version of WebDrive is a great satisfaction for WBC.”

Today, WBC’s core focus is on developing Web-enabled applications in businesses that rely heavily on web presence. Their most successful markets include real estate agencies and online services companies that provide virtual desktop applications or backup solutions. WebDrive is an excellent compliment to these markets and enables WBC to continue to extend their reach.
